

Meth took everything
from me - even my family.

I kept fighting with my family and I lied to them and stole from them until they'd had enough.

Now I've got nothing.

Getting involved with meth gave me a criminal record.

I got mixed up with some really dodgy people and ended up getting caught scoring for friends.

After taking meth I had a stroke.

I was nauseous, my heart was racing and my face went numb. The doctor's don't know the full extent of the damage yet.

Taking meth made
me lose my job.

I stopped being reliable.

I was constantly late,
and couldn't concentrate or keep up. So I had to move back with my parents.
